In light of the scandals that have plagued the Church since 2002 and continue to be revealed in more and more graphic detail within the presbyterate and the episcopacy, how can the average Catholic in the pews respond? What are we to do in the face of increasing discouragement, embarrassment and disappointment? This retreat will be rooted in Scripture and the teachings of the Church as we discuss, through stories, images and examples, a reply worthy and effective as lay faithful for the circumstances in our world today. How will you respond?

FR. ERIC DAVID ZEGEER is a priest of the Archdiocese of Miami, ordained in 2005, and currently serving as parochial vicar at Risen Christ Catholic Church in Denver. In 2018, He taught homiletics at St. John Vianney Theological Seminary while pursuing his doctoral studies in Homiletics. He has served in over seven different parishes and also worked as a full-time hospital chaplain and ethicist.
