JOIN US TO CELEBRATE THE SCHOOLS AND TO HONOR

Thomas Smith

Thomas Smith was received into the Catholic Church in Denver in 1996, bringing with him a wealth of experience and insight on the Word of God to audiences across the U.S. and internationally. He holds degrees in philosophy from Regis University, and the Pontifical Lateran University in Rome. He did his later graduate studies at St. John Vianney Theological Seminary in Denver.

Thomas served as the Director of the Denver Catholic Biblical School, the oldest and largest school of its kind in the U.S. Additionally, he was adjunct professor of Scripture at the St. Francis School of Theology. He has spent the last decade leading pilgrimages, offering parish missions and retreats, and speaking at events all around the world (averaging 160-180 days a year on the road).

He co-authored four Bible Studies used by over 5,000 U.S. parishes, including Revelation: The Kingdom Yet to Come; Prophets: Messengers of God's Mercy; Ephesians: Discovering Your Inheritance; and Wisdom: God's Vision for Life.
